ETHIOPIA

COUNTRY PROFILE

Our portfolio in Ethiopia is one of the largest and most complex in Africa. Over the last decade, the country has made tremendous development gains in education, health, and food security, yet it still remains one of the poorest countries in the world.

Our assistance is an investment to build Ethiopia's self-reliance by increasing economic growth, delivering quality basic public health and education services, and promoting a governance environment that is conducive to sustainable economic development.

OUR WORK

AGRICULTURE AND FOOD SECURITY

The economy is dependent on agriculture, which accounts for more than 40 percent of GDP and 90 percent of exports; the country's rapidly growing population underscores the need for sustainable and high-quality access to food. Through the Feed the Future initiative, we enhance food security, increase agricultural productivity, and promote resilience—especially among vulnerable populations.

DEMOCRACY, HUMAN RIGHTS AND GOVERNANCE

We work with local communities and the Government of Ethiopia to prevent and manage conflict. To enhance good governance, we also strengthen the capacity of local organizations, promote access to justice, and foster the integration of good governance principles across the mission's portfolio.

EDUCATION

For more than 20 years, we have addressed a variety of needs related to education access, equity, quality, and relevance. We are on track to improve the reading abilities of 15 million primary school children in Ethiopia.

GENDER EQUALITY AND WOMEN'S EMPOWERMENT

We promote gender equality by promoting equal access to economic opportunities and education while supporting the health of women and their families, which allows for more equitable participation in society. We are also addressing the root causes of domestic violence, child marriage, and female genital mutilation as well as supporting legislation designed to prevent gender-based violence.

GLOBAL HEALTH

Despite major improvements in the health system over the last decade, high rates of disease and death still persist. Our integrated program improves overall health, treatment of infectious diseases, access to clean water, and the nutritional status of targeted communities.

WATER

The primary goal of all our water-related projects is to save lives and advance development through improvements in water, sanitation, and hygiene programs and through sound management and use of water for food security.

WORKING IN CRISIS AND CONFLICT

We support government and civil society interaction to improve conflict management policies and practices at the local, regional, and national levels. We continue to collaborate with various partners to respond to disasters in a timely manner and increase the resilience of vulnerable populations.
