NUMBER OF POSITION: One (1) Vacancy

The U.S. Agency for International Development is seeking one individual as Project Management Specialist (Public Financial Management/Public Administration) for the Peace, Democracy and Governance Office.

Basic Function of Position

Under the direct supervision of the USAID Mali PDG Director and in collaboration with other PDG staff members, the Project Management Specialist will serve as the Mission's point person on public financial management and public administration aspects of its 5 years, $50 million cross-sectoral Democracy and Governance portfolio as well as the mission's overall $120 million annual budget. The incumbent will advance USAID's work to improve public financial management and public administration in Mali by providing USAID with technical input and oversight of assistance to central, local, and regional governments throughout Mali. In particular, s/he will support public financial management improvements; adoption of information and communication technology in public financial management reform, civil service reform, and the development of quality management systems within targeted public institutions.

Major Duties and Responsibilities

A. Direct Management of Program Activities 25%

The Specialist will provide guidance, support, and assistance to advance the good governance and public financial management and public administration program area by designing, implementing, monitoring, and evaluating programs within this portfolio. The Specialist will maintain regular contact with USAID implementing partners, other donors, relevant GOM ministries and institutions, civil society, and other stakeholders, relevant Ministry and other executive branch officials; and parliamentary deputies and staff to advance these programs. Following the completion of applicable training and certification requirements, the Public Financial Management/ Public Administration Advisor will assume AOR/COR duties and/or serve as an activity manager for one or more activities in this area. As AOTR/COTR (or alternate AOTR/COTR or activity manager) for a number of complex activities, the incumbent will provide technical and managerial oversight for a sensitive portfolio of activities. Specific responsibilities include:

1. Monitoring and facilitating program achievements via effective coordination with implementing partners, within the framework of several sensitive and complex assistance instruments. Tracking and monitoring partner activities. Analyzing work plans submitted by implementing partners to ensure that proposed activities support achievement of results. Making frequent site visits and field trips to document progress, to identify problems and identify solutions to these problems.

2. Preparing or supervising the preparation of other reports and documentation required on the good governance portfolio.
3. Managing the budget for the public financial management and public administration reform portfolio and ensuring sufficient resources are allocated to activities within it. Analyzing pipelines and mortgages and assuring timely obligation of funds.
4. Serving as AOTR/Alternate AOTR, or activity manager for a number of complex activities within this portfolio including providing technical and analytical direction to implementing partners on the implementation of programs, interacting as needed with Government of Mali counterparts to develop revisions or adjustments to program interventions to increase program effectiveness.

B. Management support and coordination of the USAID/Mali's Governance Development Objective (DO #1). 25%

Governance comprises one of USAID/Mali's three development objectives. Even though some programs under DO#1 might be managed by the Health, Education or Economic Growth Office, the PDG Office Director will assume overall responsibilities for results under this development objective. This will require creating and establishing methods to regularly collect governance related information, assisting in the development objective monitoring and evaluation efforts, and synthesizing and packaging mission wide information. The incumbent will serve as the PDG Director's assistant in the management of DO #1.

C. Strategic Planning and Coordination 20%

The Specialist will help carry out democracy and governance aspects of USAID/Mali strategic planning by supporting cross-sectoral coordination both within USAID and within the GOM. The incumbent will coordinate cross-sectoral governance activities across the USAID mission, liaising with representatives in USAID's Health, Education, and Economic Growth office to ensure effective cross-sectoral program implementation. H/She will maintain a network of personal contacts, including members of the Malian public administration, relevant Ministry and other executive branch officials; parliamentary deputies and staff; and other stakeholders including NGO and independent media representatives and will coordinate with these counterparts to develop the capacity of the Malian public financial management and public administration by developing the following cross-sectoral capacities within Malian ministries: financial management, project management, procurement, human resources, and strategic planning.

D. Public Financial Management/ Public Administration Reform Expertise for USAID/Mali 20%

The Specialist will provide leadership and input on public financial management and public administration issues to ensure that USAID's programs are positioned well to support progress in advancing transparency and democratic, accountable governance within the GOM. He/she will keep abreast of issues and key political developments affecting the effective delivery of government services in Mali and conduct regular research on Malian legal and legislative developments (both formal and informal). The incumbent will provide regular analytical reporting to support current and future USAID programming. Increasing accountability and anti-corruption reforms will be a key theme in all USAID programs. The Specialist will assist the PDG team to formulate strategies and initiatives to support these reforms in the ministries with whom USAID works, including Justice, Decentralization, Education, Health, Agriculture, Reconciliation, and Finance. Other advisory duties may include periodic evaluations of the progress of administrative reform of select ministries; participation in sector assessments related to governance, capacity building processes, analysis of pending legislation related to public administration; analysis regarding anti-corruption efforts, etc.

E. Donor Coordination, Representation 10%

The Specialist will advise and coordinate closely with other donors concerning public administration reform, public financial management other democratization-related issues. He/she will represent USAID in forums such as regular US implementers meetings; ad hoc donor coordination events; Government of Mali-sponsored initiatives; international meetings, conferences, and roundtables.
