1. Who is funding the Justice Matters activity Grants Program?
The Justice Matters activity Grants Program is funded by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) in Kosovo. Approximately $125,000 in grant funds may be distributed through the Justice Matters activity Grants Program, subject to the availability of funds and USAID or Justice Matters activity decision. USAID and the Justice Matters activity retain the right to terminate any grant or grant activity unilaterally for any reason at any time.

2. What are the eligibility criteria for Justice Matters activity Grants funding?
Registered local organizations that have an established track record of successful work in areas related to the goals of this project will be eligible to submit proposals. Proposed projects should reflect new, innovative ideas that do not duplicate previously implemented projects in Kosovo. Justice Matters activity anticipates that the grants will be used to support Kosovo organizations working to improve access to justice, support the delivery of legal aid services and implement information, outreach, and sensitization campaigns. Full details about criteria can be found in Annex C under the Request for Applications.

3. How do I apply for a Justice Matters activity Grant?
Please visit USAID Kosovo website at https://www.usaid.gov/kosovo for open grants opportunities.

4. What if I cannot complete my project as agreed in the Grant Agreement?
If the Grantee does not fulfill the conditions outlined in the grant, the Justice Matters activity reserves the right to confiscate any equipment purchased under the grant and/or terminate the Grant Agreement after prior discussion with the Grantee. In extraordinary circumstances, and with strong justification from the Grantee, the Justice Matters activity may elect to extend the period of time for a project and a modification to the agreement will be signed by the Justice Matters Program and the Grantee. However, the period of any grant agreement cannot exceed eight (8) months.
5. If I receive a grant from the Justice Matters activity Grants Program, will I have to undergo a financial audit?

Financial reports and expenditures for Justice Matters-funded projects will be reviewed regularly by the Grant Evaluation Committee. In addition, grantees agree to maintain their records for possible audit for a period of up to three years. As a matter of policy, the Justice Matters activity encourages organizations to commission annual external financial audits as evidence of sound financial management. In case a Grantee undergoes an external audit that includes a review of Justice Matters activity Grants funding, a copy of the final audit report should be forwarded to the Justice Matters activity.

6. What are examples of what I can and cannot ask for in the budget?

An organization’s proposal may include only those items in the budget that are needed specifically to conduct the Justice Matters funded project (and not other routine activities of the applicant). Justice Matters activity cannot:

- Provide funding to active duty members of the military or police (this includes salaries, honorariums, transportation, lodging, funds for security service from the police, etc.).
- Pay honoraria or consulting fees for academics or professionals providing “intellectual products,” such as expertise or acting as a facilitator or lecturer. We cannot provide any funding for salaries or honoraria for Kosovo government officials.
- Pay for an organization’s routine operating costs, such as rent, electricity, overhead, telephone bills, etc. Justice Matters activity will only fund tasks and items associated with the particular Justice Matters activity project being carried out.
- Pay for any form of tax or value added tax associated with expenses incurred on the Justice Matters activity Grant project being carried out.
- Provide funding for construction costs.

Funding for staff salaries of an organization will be considered only for that portion of a staff person’s time that is devoted exclusively to the Justice Matters funded project. The portion of each person’s time listed in the budget must be specified (e.g. full-time, 20% of time, etc.)

7. Can I receive other donor funding for my proposed activity?

If other donor funding is agreed upon prior to the signing of the Grant Agreement, then details of the funds should be included in the proposal and financial statements. If, however, donor funding opportunities become possible after the signing of the Grant Agreement, then:

a. All details must be discussed with the Justice Matters Program prior to the use of any such funds for activity on the Justice Matters activity-funded project, AND
b. Such funding may be allowed if an increase in project output is expected and reasonable. The Grantee must demonstrate an ability to track each donors’ funds separately and accurately.

10. Who is eligible for Justice Matters activity funding – individuals, companies, or NGOs?

Preference will be given to registered local organizations that have an established track record of successful work in areas related to the goals of this project will be eligible to submit proposals. NGOs should submit a copy of their registration.

11. Is cost-sharing by the applicant required?

No. However, cost-sharing by the applicant is desirable and will be looked up favorably in evaluating the proposed project. Such cost-sharing may be cash or in-kind contributions.
12. What happens if the applicant doesn’t incur the full amount of cost-sharing included in the application budget?
Failure to incur the full amount of cost-sharing included in the application budget will be noted negatively in the performance record of the applicant and may impact future grant applications. In addition, the Justice Matters activity Program may adjust final payment to reflect the missing cost-share.

Dear Applicants,
USAID’s Justice Matters activity is seeking applications from qualified local Non-Governmental Organizations – NGO for projects that will focus on strengthening informed demand to improve legal literacy and empower citizens, especially vulnerable individuals and groups, by providing actionable legal information, leveraging existing information platforms, and activating a network of CSOs, grassroots organizations, and young people to deliver information. As a result of these interventions, citizens will have access to better information on their legal rights that is actionable enabling them to seek the enforcement of those rights within the justice system. In addition, through this RFA disadvantaged and marginalized groups will benefit integrated services that address their legal and non-legal needs through innovative ideas for free legal aid service delivery.

For the purposes of this program this RFA is being issued and consists of the following:

Section I - Funding Opportunity Description;
Section II - Award Information;
Section III - Eligibility Information;
Section IV - Application Review Information;
Section V - Application Submission Information;
Section VI - Attachments.

Section I: Funding Opportunity Description

BACKGROUND/ INTRODUCTION:

Under its Country Development and Cooperation Strategy (CDCS), the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) in Kosovo has identified “Improved Rule of Law and Governance that Meet Citizen’s Needs” as its first Development Objective. USAID’s Justice Matters Activity, funded by the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) began in June 2018 and aims to improve access to justice for all, inclusive of disadvantaged and marginalized groups, by strengthening systems and services for legal aid and legal information. Justice Matters strengthens systems for legal aid service delivery, increases supply of quality legal aid services, and increased informed demand for legal aid through three inter-connected objectives:

1. Strengthen the Capacity of Kosovo’s Legal Aid System
2. Enhance the Quality and Responsiveness of Legal Aid Services
3. Strengthen Legal Literacy and Citizen Empowerment

Justice Matters activity assistance for grantees is based on two thematic areas:

1. Youth-led literacy initiatives targeting vulnerable communities
   Anticipated results under this theme include:
   • School based education activities for future “educators”;
   • Local street actions and town halls facilitated by clinics students and high school students;
   • Traveling students of Justice Matters legal clinics for legal information, advice, assistance with complaint drafting, etc.

2. Innovative ideas for free legal aid service delivery
   Anticipated results under this theme include:
   • Idea form approach for innovative concepts for free legal aid service delivery;
• New ideas that use technology or other means to facilitate legal aid service delivery;
• New ideas of working closely with other agencies that provide social and support services to disadvantaged and marginalized groups, in achieving more integrated services that address their legal and non-legal needs.

Section II: Award Information

Proposed projects should last no less than six (6) months and no more than twelve (12) months. A total fund of $ 125,000 is available under this RFA to fund projects of a value not to exceed $ 25,000 for any individual project. USAID’s Justice Matters activity intends to fund two (2) to four (4), including at least one (1) project for each thematic area. The activity reserves the right to fund no or all pre-selected applications.

Interested organizations are requested to submit a concept paper, together with a cost estimate and basic supporting application information within the specified deadlines in both hard copy and electronic copy.
Annex A provides guidelines for preparation of the application. The application should be written in English, using Times New Roman font size 12. The concept paper shall not exceed four (4) pages, excluding the Authorized Annexes and cover page.

Justice Matters Activity will award two types of grants for each of two thematic areas: Medium-Scale Grants and Small-Scale Grants. Grant opportunities will be offered multiple times during the course of implementation of this program.

Medium-scale grants are expected to range from $ 15,000 up to $ 25,000, Small-scale grants are expected to range from $ 1,000 up to $ 6,000.

Services provided to the grantees:

1. Provision of Grants
2. Training and Technical Assistance

The Program shall provide training and technical assistance to Grantees as needed to ensure the successful implementation of the grant, the use of appropriate methodologies, effective monitoring and evaluation, and sound financial management. The scope and manner of training and technical assistance will be defined in the Grant Agreement and tailored to the needs of the Grantees.

Please refer to the following annexes to this RFA for additional information and instructions:
   Annex A - Concept Paper Guideline
   Annex B - About Justice Matters Activity
   Annex C – Selection Criteria and Process
   Annex D – Grants Frequently Asked Questions

Section III: Eligibility Information

Eligibility: Justice Matters activity will issue grants to organizations that are legally registered and recognized under the laws of Kosovo and not prohibited from receiving USG funding.

Applicants are required to register for a Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number. Information on how to obtain a DUNS number can be found at https://fedgov.dnb.com/webform.
To be eligible for funding, an organization must:

- Have a valid registration to operate in Kosovo.
- Have an established track record of successful work in areas related to the goals of the Program.
- Refrain from activities that violate applicable U.S. laws, directly or indirectly.

In selecting Program for grants funding, the Program will pay particular attention to the following criteria:

- The organization has the capacity to receive and administer funding.
- The organization has the capacity to operate without the grant.
- The organization has a track record of successful work in implementing advocacy, monitoring, and/or public education activities.
- The proposed program is unique, creative, likely to yield impact, and sustainable.
- The proposed program does not duplicate programs previously or currently implemented in Kosovo.
- Activities that partner local organizations with government agencies or offices (including FLAA, Legal Aid Council, etc.) in a public-private partnership are strongly encouraged.
- Joint activities (consortium) of different civil society organizations and partnership with law firms are looked upon favorable.

To be eligible, an applicant must:

- Show proof of a valid registration under the Kosovo Law on Freedom of Association in Non-Governmental Organizations;
- Show proof of a valid bank account at a bank in Kosovo;
- Demonstrate it is in good standing with Tax Administration of Kosovo; and
- Provide DUNS Number (if you do not have one, Justice Matters can assist you to obtain one).

Section IV: Application Review Information

Grants will be awarded on the basis of a competition in response to a published RFA and a two-step RFA procedure will be used:

1. Submission of a concept paper, together with a cost estimate and basic supporting application information.
2. Applicants submitting a successful concept paper will be invited to submit a detailed application for a potential grant.

Evaluation of applications submitted during the open grant competition round will proceed as follows:

1. Justice Matters activity issues a RFA.
2. Justice Matters activity organizes an Applicants’ Conference.
3. The Program receives concept papers and basic supporting application information, including, but not limited to, information enabling the Justice Matters activity to vet the organization on the Special Designated Nationals (SDN) List.
4. The Justice Matters activity conducts initial evaluation of submissions (administrative and organizational compliance, eligibility, vetting on the SDN List).
5. The Justice Matters activity vets applicants using the SDN List.
6. Eligible organizations are invited to submit full proposals within the prescribed deadlines. Proposals will include necessary supplementary information, including the accounting questionnaire.

7. The Justice Matters activity reviews the accounting questionnaires and other financial data submitted and evaluates financial management capacity of applicant organizations.

8. The Justice Matters activity works with applicants to finalize all aspects of proposals (programmatic, financial, etc.).

Pre-award application capacity review: All applicants that meet the eligibility criteria will undergo a pre-award capacity review. The purpose of the review is to ascertain whether the applicant has the administrative and managerial capacity required to carry out the proposed activities in a competent, accountable, and transparent manner. The capacity review will be comprised of interviews and documentation reviews, preferably at the applicant’s premises.

Applicants’ Conference

Following the publication of a grant opportunity and prior to the submission of the concept paper, the Program will hold an Information Conference or pre-application conference to answer questions that interested persons may have regarding the RFA and the application process. To be eligible to participate in the Applicants’ Conference, an interested person must have previously obtained a copy of the Application Form and must have expressed an interest in the Grants Program by completing a brief form identifying the organization, and its director, business address, and phone or email contact information of its authorized representative. This form may be completed at the time of picking up the copy of the Application Form or at any time before the Applicants’ Conference. The completed form should be submitted electronically at: info@ncsc-ks.org. The time and location of the Conference will be communicated to interested applicants via email or telephone.

Section VI: Application Submission Information

The Concept Paper must be submitted in both hard copy and electronic copy at the following addresses within the deadline for submission. No applications will be accepted after the closure time and date. Failure to submit both hard copy and electronic copy within the deadline will result in immediate disqualification.

Three (3) hard copies of the Concept Paper must be submitted by four (4) o’clock in the afternoon on March 14, 2019 to:

Attention: Justice Matters activity-2019-001-Grants
USAID’s Justice Matters Activity
Andrea Gropa, 98/1, 10000 Pristina
Kosovo.

One (1) electronic copy must be submitted by email by four (4) o’clock in the afternoon on March 14, 2019 with “Justice Matters activity -2019-001-Grants” as the subject line at info@ncsc-ks.org.

Notice: The following conditions apply:
a. Concept papers that do not contain basic information required under Annex A will be immediately rejected.
b. Concept papers that do not contain the reference number for this call for RFA will be immediately rejected.
c. Any kinds of persuasion and phone call will be treated as disqualification for participating in the NGO selection process.
d. Concept papers must be submitted in English, using Times New Roman font 12.

This call for RFA will not result in immediate grant awards. Successful applicants will be invited to submit a full Project Application by further notification followed by a bidders’ conference.
