

AN EDUCATED GIRL
HAS A RIPPLE EFFECT IN HER FAMILY, COMMUNITY
AND COUNTRY

LET GIRLS CHANGE THE WORLD.
IT'S TIME TO ACT.

TODAY, 62 MILLION GIRLS AROUND THE WORLD ARE NOT IN SCHOOL. WHAT WILL THE WORLD LOOK LIKE WHEN WE EDUCATE ALL GIRLS?

What Happens if We Let Girls Learn

She can lift her country out of poverty. If India enrolled 1% more girls in secondary school, their GDP would rise by $5.5 billion.

Investing $231.6 million in new programs that support primary and secondary education for girls.

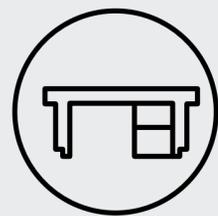

She can feed her family and her country. Investing in girls' education could boost agricultural output in Sub-Saharan Africa by 25%.

Has made significant progress in Guatemala where nearly every 7-12 year old is enrolled in primary school.

She can increase her income. For every extra year a girl stays in school, her income can increase by 15 to 25%.

Establishing 5,000 community based classes in Afghanistan to provide education to 174,000 girls.

She will invest in future generations. Educated women invest 90% of their income into their family.

Supports Syrian refugees living in Jordan through a grant to UNICEF's No Lost Generation Program, which is educating 90,000 girls.

She will send her children to school, continuing the cycle of education. Educated mothers are more than twice as likely to send their children to school.

Investing $17.4 million in emergency education for girls in South Sudan who were forced to flee their homes. The program will reduce gender-based violence, promote female leadership in camp activities, provide safe learning spaces, and gender-segregated sanitation facilities.
