"This drawing shows the empowerment of women in the form of a fruitful tree. The tree represents the growth potential of participants. In nature, if there are opportunities for a tree to grow, it will become productive and fruitful. Similar to a tree, if there are opportunities for women to build their capacities, they will also grow and become productive and fruitful members of society. Since participating in Jawana, we feel now that we are like this tree, growing and becoming fruitful." (Sharifa Ahmadi, Saeedeh Hashimi, Firuza Noorazî)
